

The Emsworth Show 2010

The preparations for the Emsworth Show, to be held on 30th August 2010 are now underway. We have had just about enough offers of help to continue but further offers will be more than welcome.

From time to time this page will be updated and during the month of August we will post the time tables for the arenas and various happenings.

Meanwhile, are you a keen photographer? To help you decide what to be photographing we list the classes below. Full schedules will be available in the summer, probably early June. Anyone who entered any of the sections in 2009 will be sent a schedule automatically.
